Cruthirds Reunion

The Robert and Evelyn Coleman Cruthirds family reunion was held Saturday afternoon, May 26, at the Latimer Community Center with 75 descendents and guests attending.

A beautiful spring flower basket, patted plants and gardenias decorated the center, along with a decorated Family Tree Cake.

Mrs. Bobbie Jean Walden Rodriguez, President and Mrs. Maxine Walden Ramsey welcomed the group and Mrs. Rodriguez talked about "What Makes A Family Tree?"

Mrs. Estell Cruthirds Quave of Latimer and Metlon Cruthirds of Serepta, La., were the oldest lady and gentlemen in attendance and were presented corsage and boutinniere by Mrs. Ramsay and Mrs. Rodriguez, as well as Loving Cups.

Dear Mr. Cruthirds,

We have made several attempts to reply to your email of July 20, 1998, but the email is returned to us as "host unknown." We decided to try again by adding a "t" to the end of rcruthir@bellsouth.net.

We would be happy to receive your article for inclusion in the next "History of Jackson County" book. There really is no style sheet, but you may use the articles in the original book as a guide. Or, if you prefer, we will include just the four generation chart. We can certainly give credit to Mrs. Beulah V. White Cruthirds if you like.

We certainly plan to include ALL of the church histories in the next book.

We look forward to receiving your article and would also like to encourage you to allow us to deposit any information that you might be willing to share with other researchers on your family line in our Family Vertical Files. These are files to which researchers donate research material on their families in order to help other researchers. It will also allow other researchers to contact you, so that you may also benefit from their research.

WE hope that this message reaches you and that this answers your questions.

Sincerely,

Sherry Owens
Volunteer

Dear Mrs. Else Martin:

Friday we received copy of THE HISTORY OF JACKSON COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI
I understand that your office is working on a supplement to this book.
I would like to recommend articles about following family be added:

1. CRUTHIRDS FAMILY -- I am working on this article at the present time. I will send you a large four generation chart of the family in a few days. Need to make sure of the spelling of one name. Then you will have a genealogy chart of the CRUTHIRDS line. By the way is there a way to give mother Mrs Beulah V. White Cruthirds credit for doing most of the "leg work" to gather this information.
2. KROHN FAMILY -- I know you have a book on the KROHN Family. There have been several marriages between the Krohn and Cruthirds. May be able to get one of the Latimer Krohn to Write their article.

I would like to recommend the following Churches be added. These three churches have played a role in the religious history of Latimer Community.

1. Bethel Hill Baptist Church
2. Latimer Assembly Of God Church
3. Fayard United Methodists Church

Do you have a style sheet to be used in writing the CRUTHIRDS Family Article?

Also, last week I sent you an e-mail in checking my log I find no record of the message being sent. If you receive this message would you send me a test message.

Sincerely,

R. Presley Cruthirds

KASHMIR REFUGEE CHALLENGE

Karachi, Pakistan contends that 100,000 refugees from India now live in Pakistan. They are permitted to vote in a plebiscite on Kashmir.

Mr. H. Grady Howell, Jr.
103 Trace Harbor Road
Madison, Mississippi 39110

Dear Grady:

I opened Volume III of For Dixie Land I'll Take My Stand, a Muster Listing of All Known Mississippi Confederate Soldiers, Sailors and Marines, N-Z, and carefully inspected Volume IV which is a wonderful collection of pictures that I looked at for a long time. Then I indexed Volume III to Volume IV so I could tell who you have pictures of. Both books are well bound and lie open easily--this is not an idle comment because I once worked in book production at the University of Michigan Press.

When I first looked at your book of pictures I thought to tell you about Tim Burgess and the collection of pictures in the Carter Museum, but I see that some of the pictures came from Tim so he has probably sent you copies of all those Mississippians posted in the museum.

Carnton and the Confederate Cemetery

I may have told you that our daughter Nancy J. King (married to Timothy Babb) has been on the faculty of Vanderbilt Law School since 1990 and served for two years as Associate Dean. So I am frequently visiting in Nashville, the last time for Grandparents' Chocolate Day at Harding Academy on December 17. Then I visited Carnton and the Confederate Cemetery with the King/Babb family for the nth time. Surprisingly that weekend Martin's grave alone of the 1500 other graves was decorated with a plastic-covered message of good wishes to Corporal Martin

Bond and large artificial flowers. I don't know who would have done it and only for him?

It had been some years since I had visited Carnton, though I often visit the cemetery as do my grandchildren. It is a regular 4th grade trip for Harding, the private school they both attended. The guides at Carnton now tell us that after the battle the McGavocks moved out of the house as it was turned into a hospital for amputations. They tell us the family stayed on the top story of an adjacent building. When I was last there before there were blood stains showing on the floor of only one second-floor room. Now much more paint has been stripped off the floor and every second-room floor shows blood stains some in the outlines of bottoms of buckets.

Preston Bond

I think I have another picture for you, Preston Bond, brother of Wilkin and Martin in a suit made by Pres's mother Lydia Nelson Bond (Russel's wife). I suspect she also made the three suits in the Bonds' picture on your page 31. Pres's picture that I can find is one of 5 in the Bond family found on a large piece of paper in the house Polly Ann homesteaded at Lyman, a copy of which was sent to me by my cousin, Bill Lowery. Pres, the youngest boy in the family, served in the 5th Battalion.

Alma Hickman (one of mother's mentors) once wrote a short story about searching the swamps towards the end of the War for a 16-year-old being helped by his family to avoid service towards the end of the War. It's very well written. If you want a copy of it I look for it.

Pres Bond's house (turned 90 degrees from its original orientation) is on Highway 49 just north of Wiggins near the town of Bond. (There is a picture of the house in my mother's book.) My grandmother Sarah Lydia Herrington (born 1868) attended school in Pres's house with several other children of her age, including, I think, Willard F. Bond, later Superintendent of Mississippi schools.

Pres survived the War along with his sisters Nellie, Mary (Polly) Ann Bond (my great-grandmother), Kizzie, and Delphi (Adelphia). Their brothers Wilkin & Martin in the Third Mississippi did not. Pres Bond applied for a pension and I have sent for a copy of his application.

Martin & Wilkin Bond

As you know, Martin with Company H of the Third Mississippi Infantry was killed on the battlefield at Franklin and Wilkin of the same company was wounded there. I don't know which of the 41 house/hospitals in Franklin he was in but like your ancestor he was taken prisoner on December 17 (or thereabouts) when the Confederates had to abandon their wounded as they retreated from Nashville and south through Franklin. I don't think he was hospitalized at Carnton because that house may have been used exclusively for amputations and there never has been a hint that Wilkin had a limb amputated. (He may have gone to Camp Chase via Louisville. That was the way my great-grandfather John Milton Herrington of the Live Oak Rifles was sent after being wounded in the left hip at Franklin and also the way Cephas Bond.) Wilkin died at Camp Chase of variola in March 1865 just before the end of the War. Having read that on Aunt Grace's UDC application, I found out that variola is an old name for smallpox. (I have also encountered the noun "varioid.") Typical of a country boy not to have been vaccinated although vaccinations against smallpox had been available at least in U.S. cities since the late 1794..

I once recalled that my mother had told me that her half-sister Grace (daughter of Delphi and my grandfather Herrington) was a member of the UDC. Grace married a judge in Alabama and I think my mother thought the UDC application was part of Grace's efforts to raise her own social status. (I remember being told something about fox hunting as part of that family's life style.) I have had trouble getting in touch with the UDC (and it always seems to be the weekend when I go through Richmond) but some years ago I send a copy of mother's book to them as a lagniappe and asked them to send me copies of Aunt Grace's application. They did. That's how I first found out about Wilkin and Franklin and Wilkin's death by variola at Camp Chase, Ohio, none of which I had ever heard of. As a matter of fact I thought until then that you had to be a direct descendant of a veteran to join the UDC, which of course upon reflection would make no sense since a large portion of the soldiers were unmarried 17-year-olds.

Much later I found Martin's, Russel's, and Wilkin's picture marked on the back with a label pasted by my grandmother which you printed in your book on the 3rd Mississippi.

That was before Nancy moved to Nashville so when she did I drifted to Franklin on my first visit, never expecting to find Martin's grave. To my surprise I found "M. Bond" listed in the booklet based on Mrs. McGavock's handwritten list of the soldiers buried in the Confederate Cemetery which she and her husband gave two acres for.

As to Wilkin's grave at Camp Chase, I learned from a Civil War magazine that there was going to be a re-enactment at Camp Chase, Ohio, at a time I was driving south anyway. (I couldn't figure out how they would do a reenactment in a cemetery which is all that is left of Camp Chase.) But I went and found Wilkin's grave. One of the speakers at that re-enactment mentioned that in the 1890's (and maybe before and after) railroad carloads of flowers were shipped to Camp Chase cemetery from Southern families, probably on Memorial Day. I am sure I am the first member of the family who has visited both Martin's and Wilkin's grave or maybe either grave.

At the Battle of Franklin reunion of descendants in 2002, I found three other women with ancestors who were sent to Camp Chase. Apparently there was a smallpox section of the camp to which at least one prisoner, not ill with smallpox, was sent as punishment. That must have been the section of the prison where Wilkin died. We four women have formed a "Camp Chase caucus" among the Franklin descendants.

Cephas Bond

Cephas Bond, also of Company H of the 3rd Mississippi, was a much younger brother of my great-great-grandfather Russel (don't know which is his spelling is Russel or Russell; I have seen it both ways). Lou Anderson's Bond genealogy says Cephas is found in the records as Seaford, Seaborn, Josephus, and Seaphus. His father was Lt. Colonel John Bond whose descendants (including Cephas's) have a reunion each year on the Sunday before Labor Day at Flint Creek Park near Wiggins. I have been attended it five times including 2002. According to Lou Anderson's mammoth book on the Bonds, Cephas enlisted as a Confederate soldier on October 8, 1861 at Pass Christian. He was wounded at Franklin and taken prisoner on December 14, 1864. He was transferred from Franklin to Louisville, then to Camp Chase, and then to Pt. Lookout, Maryland, and was released on June 9, 1865 after taking the Oath of Allegiance. On June 14, 1865, he was sent from the Provost Marshall General, Washington, D.C. to Harrison County, MS.

Lou Anderson writes that family legend says that money was not provided and that Cephas walked (or managed (for horseback transportation) the entire way home. (I didn't think money was ever provided for Confederates to return home at the end of the War.) Ms. Anderson writes that Cephas never recovered from the Civil War wounds and remained in poor health after the War, taking his life with a shotgun about 1906, according to his widow's application for a pension.

John Milton Herrington

As to John Milton Herrington (my great-grandfather) as a Confederate soldier, it is family tradition supported by your book To Live and Die in Dixie, by documents from microfilm at the Pascagoula library from the Mississippi State Archives, and by his second wife Mary E. Herrington's application for a widow's pension, and from page 386 of your book that he was a member Company A of the Third Mississippi, the Live Oak Rifles (which figures since the Herrington place was in Jackson County at its northern border with George County by the confluence of Red and Black Creeks) and that he was wounded at Franklin in the left hip. The documents and the application state he was sent to Camp Chase. (Mary Herrington refers to it as Camp Chase, Maryland. If, like Cephas, John Milton was sent from Camp Chase, Ohio, to Pt. Lookout, Maryland, in making out her pension application 60 years later Mary Herrington may have blended the two locations.)

The family history comes from my first cousin Elizabeth Sulteen, daughter of Bess who was my mother's half sister. Bess like my mother was a granddaughter of John Milton. Bess told her daughter Elizabeth that her daddy (C. A. Herrington) told her he remembers his father coming home from the War, limping, perhaps walking up a long road toward the house. (A long road lined on both sides with trees--or am I confusing that with Gone With the Wind?) C. A., John Milton's youngest child and only boy, remembered that when his sisters sighted John Milton a long way off and recognized their father they started crying and he didn't understand why they were crying. Daddy was coming home and to this 11-year-old boy that was no reason to cry!

John Milton was walking home from Camp Chase unless he had been sent to another prisoner of war camp as Cephas was. Why his papers are John C. and we know him as John Milton, I don't know, but it is the same person.

On page 554 of your book he is listed in the Live Oak Rifles.

John Milton subsequently became a justice of peace in Jackson County and held other public offices. His first wife was Phoebe Jones and after she died he married Mary Byrd Fairley, "widow" of Matthew W. Fairley. The Fairley place apparently adjoined the Herrington place near the confluence of the creeks. It seems that Matthew was also a Live Oak Rifle and you list him as M. W. Fairley. Mary Fairley was apparently, at least after the War, an annoying, abrasive, critical, and irritating woman, no fun to live with or have visit. There are a lot of Fairleys still left around Wiggins and Jackson County so the family history is alive and well among them and the O'Neals. My cousin Arl O'Neal of Wiggins told me that a lot of people think Matthew wasn't killed, "he just took off." (Still talking about 1865 as if it was yesterday! This is as close as I have come to Faulkner's comment that in the South "the past isn't dead, it isn't even past.") Two O'Neals married into the Herrington and the Fairley families and this is probably where Arl got the comment.

Pascagoula Public Library

Arl also told me that in the middle of the War there was a crisis in the Fairley family, Sarah Belle was sick and about to die, when Confederates came to bring Matthew Fairley to be a soldier. He pleaded to be left at home until the crisis was over but the men who came for him refused to allow him the time.

John Milton Herrington is buried in a very small three-grave family cemetery just off an old logging road in what were once heavy woods on land now used for hunting. Since I first saw the graves International Paper has clear cut the land but fortunately not immediately around the graves. The little graveyard is near where the Fairley place would have been and the first burial there was of Sarah Belle Fairley, a daughter of Matthew and Mary Byrd Fairley who died in 1863 during the War. (It must have been her approaching death which Matthew pleaded when he didn't want to go with the soldiers.) The graveyard is near the junction of Black and Red Creeks and I once saw there a sign on a board that said "Herrington Landing." It is no longer there.

Arl said that in the 1880's one of John Milton's daughters (I think Aunt Eliza Herrington O'Neal, Arl's grandmother) put a tombstone (engraved for John Milton) in a wagon and drove it cross country to mark her father's grave. It must have been a very rough and bumpy trip. She left a road where Highway 49 now is and drove the wagon across bumpy fields to Jackson County. I needed Arl to help me find the tiny cemetery because rutty and muddy back roads have to be traversed and they are full of holes and but Arl is gone now. He died on December 23, 1999. He was, like me, a great-grandchild of John Milton.

Mary Herrington is buried in another cemetery on flat land near a field which Arl showed me. She applied for a widow's pension on John Milton's record and I got a copy of her application from the Pascagoula Library genealogy section. Mary died in 1928.

Cincinnatus Abernathy Herrington

My grandfather Herrington was killed in December 1923, three months before I was born. He was called "Nat" in Wiggins. He was driving his truck across the Gulf & Ship Island tracks near McHenry when his truck was hit by a train he didn't hear coming.

My mother said he often talked about his fear as a young boy of the Yankee cavalry who rode across Mississippi from Baton Rouge in December 1864 in Davidson's raid. They had been sent to cut Hood's supply lines on the northbound Mobile & Ohio railroad in Alabama close to the Mississippi border. When the Yankee cavalry reached the Pascagoula River in December 1864 it was too flooded to cross, even by ferry, so they went down the west side of the river to the Gulf Coast. They rode through the Ramsay place, the O'Neal place, and many other farms and homes.

The Yankees in Mississippi were sending boys and old men as prisoners to Fort Massachusetts on Ship Island in the Gulf. C.A. was 11 years old. As the Yankees reached the Herrington place, C.A. hid in his family's corn crib which had pumpkins piled close to the roof. Scared to death, he stayed there during the raid without making a sound while the pumpkins dropped on his head ("Plump, plump, plump"). In later life he told this story often. By the time my mother heard the story 35 years later, Nat made it sound very funny.

Arl had a Davidson's raid story which I never wrote down because I thought we would have a lot more time together so I remember it only in outline. His O'Neal ancestors (a set of brothers) were not enthusiastic about the War and didn't serve. Whether they hid out in swamps I was never sure. They constituted themselves a "Home Guard" and rescued at least one woman whose house had just been entered by Yankee raiders. The O'Neal brothers had spotted the cavalrymen's horses tied up to her porch rail.

My mother's high school classmate Walline Skoglund Batson toldus the story of her grandmother Ramsay who sewed her silverware in the hems of her skirt and moved her feet slowly and carefully in tiny flat sliding steps so the Yankees wouldn't hear the silver clink.

There is another family's tale of the raid in Four Centuries on the Pascagoula. I wanted to gather more of these stories but it's hard to do it without Arl.

William Dallas Cruthirds

According to my great-grandmother's application for a pension my great-grandfather William Dallas Cruthirds rode with Forrest. In Mary (Polly) Ann Bond's application for a widow's pension from Stone County she says he did. I have sent for a copy of the original application.

William Cruthirds was in the 15th Confederate Cavalry (not a Mississippi unit) which was apparently under Forrest's command. He would have been 17 at the beginning of the War in 1861. I found a lot of microfilmed military records on him in the Pascagoula library but they were not too informative.

He is buried in a little family cemetery of Cruthirds and Sweatmans off Cowan Road north of Pass Road near Bayou Bernard, carefully walled off from a new subdivision. It is near Handsboro and very near where the location of the old Cruthirds homestead which no longer stands. William died of pneumonia in 1872 at the age of 28 leaving my great-grandmother Polly Ann Bond Cruthirds (later Eldridge) to care alone for three little children, my grandmother Sarah Lydia Cruthirds, born in 1868 and then 4 years old, Bill (age 3), and Wash (age 1). Polly Ann would leave my grandmother in charge of her two young brothers and go out in the fields to work, but the four-year-old couldn't manage the toddler and the baby.

Local History & Genealogy Department
Cruthirds Family History

Thus Polly Ann Bond Cruthirds wasn't able to make it alone and moved back to Wiggins (not so named yet) to live with her mother and father Russel and Lydia Nelson Bond. From the five years she spent as a child in the Russel Bond house my grandmother remembered her grandmother Lydia as rather sour and angry. Now that I know Lydia Bond had lost her two oldest sons, 4-1/2 months and 1 month before the end of the War, I think she must have been very depressed by their deaths to say nothing of the effect on the formerly well-off family from the hard struggle to survive in Reconstruction. (Once during World War II I got a heartfelt lecture from my Grandma about the sufferings of an occupied country when I bemoaned the capture of Paris by the Germans which had occurred the day before.)

I don't believe Polly Ann Bond Cruthirds's second husband Napoleon Bonaparte Eldridge was a war veteran. She married him in about 1877. In about 1894 he shot himself in his house at Lyman, Mississippi, a house that Polly Ann had homesteaded. It was on the old road north from the Gulf (can't remember the name of the road right now). In 1924 long after her second husband's death, Polly Ann Bond (Cruthirds) Eldridge applied for a pension on the basis of William Cruthird's record. It was remarkable that Polly Ann married two men after the Civil War when there was a severe shortage of men in the South.

Napoleon B. Eldridge died in when his daughter Aunt Nell Eldridge (later Lowery, my grandmother's half-sister) was 14. She discovered him dead in his bedroom when she brought him his morning coffee. The new owners of that house have heard and felt a ghost in that room and Nell's son Oscar Lowery and I were mesmerized by their stories a few years ago when we visited them in the newly redecorated house.

What is your next book project?

Jean Ledwith King

P.S. I am reading Rebel Private: Front and Rear: Memoirs of a Confederate Soldier (Meridian, 1997) by William A. Fletcher, a footsoldier in Hood's Texans and a horseman in Terry's Texas Rangers. I bought it in Gulfport on December 27, 2000, when I was in Mississippi for Arl's funeral. Have you seen it? The back cover says Shelby Foote calls it "the best account I know of."

P.P.S. I came to Mississippi again January 9 and 10, 2000, for the 185th celebration of the Battle of New Orleans in which Lt. Col. John Bond fought under Andy Jackson with a company he had formed from his Bond relatives. He may not have reached the battle site at Chalmette but might have been part of the militia that were needed to guard against British penetration of the numerous rivers bayous emptying into the Gulf on the Louisiana coast.

MAJOR-GENERAL NATHAN BEDFORD FORREST, C.S.A.

General Forrest was one of the born cavalry leaders. Daring and resourceful in every situation, he and his hard-riding raiders became a source of terror throughout the Mississippi Valley. He was born near the site of Chapel Hill, Tennessee, on July 31, 1821, attended school for about six months, became a horse and cattle trader, and slave trader at Memphis. He cast in his lot with the Confederacy and entered the army as a private in June, 1861. In July he organized a battalion of cavalry, of which he became lieutenant-colonel. He escaped from Fort Donelson when it surrendered to Grant, and as brigadier-general served in Kentucky under Bragg. Transferred to Northern Mississippi in November, 1863, Forrest was made major-general on December 4th of that year, and at the close of the following year was placed in command of all the cavalry with the Army of the Tennessee. On January 24, 1865, he was put in command of the cavalry in Alabama, Mississippi, and east Louisiana, and was appointed lieutenant-general on February 28th. He met defeat at the hands of General James H. Wilson at Selma, Ala., in March, 1865, and surrendered to General Canby at Gainesville the following May. He remained in business in Tennessee until he died in 1877—one of the most striking characters developed by the war.
